

JOHN FEDERLINE has soloed in choirs and major productions for many years, including Ali Hakim in "Oklahoma!" and Nanki-Poo in "The Mikado." He is a fine musician, soloist and part-singer. John and Tery team up and make the ladies laugh. His demanding work schedule precludes his ability to sing with us on a regular basis, but when he does, he is the anchorman of our tenor section.

MABEL FEDERLINE and husband John were charter members of Lyric League in Elberton. They have two daughters, Allison and Jennifer. Mabel has soloed in the Prince Avenue Baptist Church choir and in major productions for many years, including the role of Laurie in "Oklahoma!" She has one of the richest, most open voices I've ever heard. She sings with her whole being and lights up the stage. Mabel sang the title role in "Columbia, the Gem of the Ozarks." She is a nurse in Athens.
